

EXTERNAL WORK

The operational arrangement at the Bado Minimum Security Prison aims to train inmates to develop a diligent work ethic, foster a sense of responsibility, self-enrichment, and also enables them to earn a living allowance. This allowance serves as a moderate means to support their families, enhancing their family's support system. Through this, the goal is to cultivate self-sufficiency and rehabilitation abilities, ensuring a smooth reintegration into society in the future.

We are seeking collaborative partnerships with corporate entities to establish a harmonious and supportive society.

SITUATIONS OF EXTERNAL WORK

Furthermore, with the goal of combining occupational training and external work arrangements, the concept of education and rehabilitation integration is implemented. In this regard, inmates who have obtained relevant certifications are actively introduced to cooperative external work partners that align with the demands of such occupations. This provides opportunities for work within the prison environment. The aspiration is that individuals who have undergone technical training can secure employment and be highly valued by companies upon release. This approach not only sustains employment but also addresses labor shortages in society, thereby creating a mutually beneficial outcome.
